To Whom It May Concern:

Long Island Tutorial Services and Salvatore Bellafiore have been providing home instruction to the students of Sayville Public Schools for approximately five years. During this time, the district has found the service provided to be of high quality. Mr. Bellafiore is highly responsive to the needs of both the students and the District and has consistently provided instruction that has enabled students to continue to progress even during times when they are unable to attend school.

In addition, Mr. Bellafiore has provided exceptional instruction and preparation to our students who wish to pursue their GED/AHSEP diplomas. He not only prepares them well for the exam itself, but he serves as a guide to them as they complete the necessary applications. He has successfully assisted a number of these students in achieving their goals.

I would highly recommend Long Island Tutorial Services and Salvatore Bellafiore to your organization.

Sincerely,
